

Learning Activity:

LEARNING OBJECTIVES	EXPANDED CONTENT OUTLINE
The learner will be able to describe the experiences of elderly immigrants of Mexican origin with life-limiting illness.	Describe how study participants react to their diagnoses. Discuss how study participants respond to illnesses.
The learner will be able to identify nursing interventions for elderly immigrants of Mexican origin who face life-limiting illness.	Explain how study participants relate to their health care providers. Select culturally appropriate nursing interventions.
The learner will be able to apply the social ecological model for effective strategies to address needs of elderly immigrants of Mexican origin.	Discuss individual and family strengths utilized during the self-management of life-limiting illness. Suggest evidence-based community interventions. Propose policy that supports elderly immigrants of Mexican origin with life-limiting illness.